Correction

In Thursday's issue of The Sea Coast Echo, a report of a Hancock County School District hearing stated Waveland Attorney Aaron Adams said a fellow student of his client, a Hancock North Central High School student, was seen 'smoking pot.' The article should have reported the HNC student was seen by a fellow student possessing marijuana.

The Echo apologizes for this error.

Avoid Financial Headaches

Thinking about selling financing. Honestly, the best way to your home on your own? If so, you should commence a cram course in financing. How much money will you want down? How will you determine the prospect's credit history? Will you accept a second mortgage? Have you been in close contact with financial institutions, the FHA or VA? Can you advise a prospect where to get mortgage funds, and who will pay what closing costs?

On the other hand, Realtors know that many sales are lost, strictly for want of proper financing. They also know the intricate methods and sources of

Who do you call?

If you want to know something about Hancock County, call the Chamber of Commerce.

They've either got the answer, or can tell you where to find it. Hancock County benefits in many ways from the Chamber in addition to promoting the good things in our county. It is one of the strongest assets we have. The Chamber reaches virtually every corner of the county through a variety of people and programs.

For the year 1980 the Chamber's membership jumped to 476, of which 75 were new - the highest membership figure in its history.

Also, for the first time ever, the Chamber is offering low-cost group hospitalization insurance to its members.

In 1980 there have been many inquiries from persons interested in opening new business; numerous market information calls; hundreds of calls and office visits by tourists and local residents; hundreds of tourist inquiries; and many telephone calls seeking general information.

The Chamber was instrumental in having the signal light reworked at US-90 and Beach Blvd.; instrumental in having auto junkyards fenced properly; undertaken projects to stimulate local retail sales; assisted the Miss USA Pageant held on the Gulf Coast; and during 1980 works of local artists were displayed in Chamber's office, and many, many more endeavours to help our county be a better place to live.

Bits 'n pieces

We hope that each and everyone of you will have a Happy Thanksgiving today.

When we look around us, most of us can see a lot of things to be thankful for being Americans.

We can think of the millions of people starving to death and nations at war.

We are all lucky to be Americans and should always be thankful for being Americans.

After today is behind us, we can put all our thoughts on Christmas which is less than a month away.

Some folks will not have a nice Christmas - those who are caught shoplifting.

We know we have mentioned this before, but some have to be reminded that shoplifters are always caught.

In our conversations with local merchants, they all say they are going to report incidents of shoplifting to police.

We understand some arrests of shoplifters have already been made this past week, so our police mean business.

The City of Waveland was breezing along without a traffic fatality until Nov. 21, when two residents were killed at the intersection of US-90 and Hwy. 603.

The opening of the Choctaw Shopping Center at that intersection has undoubtedly increased the flow of traffic at the heavy traveled intersection.

In all probability the two fatalities cannot be blamed on the new shopping center as the accident happened a little after mid-night.

The thing that worries us and Waveland law officers is the fact that there is a blinking traffic control during the late hours of night.

We do not proclaim to know anything about traffic control, but it makes no sense to us to have a control light blinking, because to us it seems to cause confusion.

We even notice it in Bay St. Louis, when the light blinks at Second and Main Street, as motorists seem to be hesitant as to what to do, just like us.

We urge the State Highway Department to do a new study on traffic flow at the intersection of US-90 and Highway 603, since there seems to be a tremendous increase of traffic and all of the stores are not open as yet in the new shopping center.

While talking about Thanksgiving, we know a couple who reside in Bay St. Louis who are very thankful for a project so many people in our area are participating in.

We are talking about the Willie Dunklin family, whose home was beyond repair.

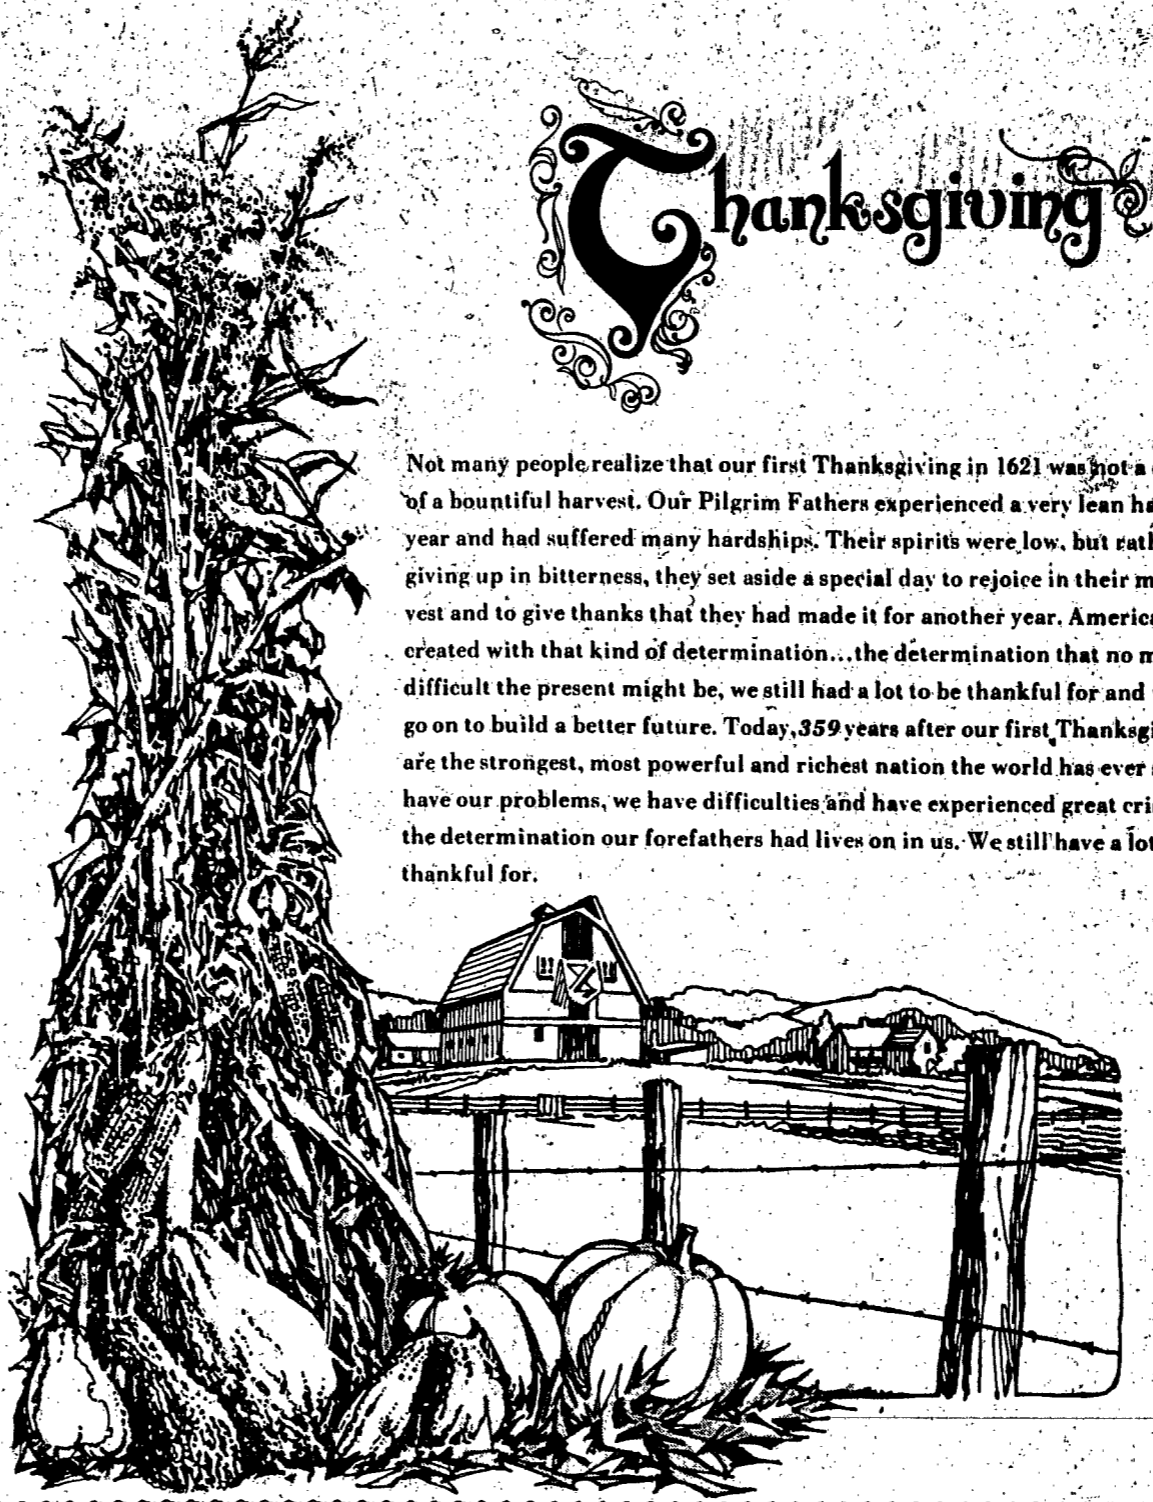

The old house has been demolished and a new one is under construction.

Progress on the new home is going along fine according to Geraldine Lang, the person who has spearheaded this fine endeavour.

Many folks have given their time and money to buy the necessary materials to build this home. A special thanks to each of you.

The one item still needed according to Lang is a ceiling, but she is now trying to gather up enough donations to purchase this item.

Anyone interested in donating can call Lang at 467-9506. We are grateful.

Thanksgiving

Not many people realize that our first Thanksgiving in 1621 was not a celebration of a bountiful harvest. Our Pilgrim Fathers experienced a very lean harvest that year and had suffered many hardships. Their spirits were low, but rather than giving up in bitterness, they set aside a special day to rejoice in their meager harvest and to give thanks that they had made it for another year. America was created with that kind of determination...the determination that no matter how difficult the present might be, we still had a lot to be thankful for and we would go on to build a better future. Today, 359 years after our first Thanksgiving, we are the strongest, most powerful and richest nation the world has ever seen. We have our problems, we have difficulties and have experienced great crises, but the determination our forefathers had lives on in us. We still have a lot to be thankful for.

State safety commissioner warns holiday motorists

Mississippi motorists were warned this week that the Thanksgiving holiday period is one of the most dangerous times for highway travel, especially between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m.

The warning was issued by Sidney B. Berry, Lieutenant General, U.S. Army (retired), commissioner of Public Safety.

Berry said, "There are many contributing factors to increased deaths on Mississippi's highways during this season, including shorter daylight hours, bad weather, people driving for long periods of time, and unfortunately, the use of alcohol that magnifies unsafe driving practices."

He said 12 persons were killed on Mississippi's highways during the 102-hour Thanksgiving observance last year and the main reason for the deaths can be directly attributed to "discourtesy, lack of attention to safe driving practices, and impatience with getting somewhere in too short of time and too fast."

"We know this is true because the leading cause of traffic accidents in Mississippi is failure to yield the right of way. Showing courtesy and consideration for fellow motorists is a prime rule for driver," Berry noted.

"Translating 'do unto others as you would have them do unto you' into our driving practices, will save lives and make driving on Mississippi highways safer and more enjoyable," he stated.

Berry said there will be many out-of-state motorists on Mississippi highways who will be less familiar with the roads than are Mississippians themselves.

"This increases the importance of driving defensively, treating other drivers courteously, and assisting everyone along the highways to keep both themselves and yourselves alive," he suggested.

The Commissioner said Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol officers, who would normally be at home enjoying this occasion with their families, will delay their days off to increase the level of safety on Mississippi highways and to keep Mississippians and other motorists alive.

"Task you to look upon our officers as a friend and guardian. They are the best friend a conscientious motorist can have since their very presence is a deterrent to the would-be law breaker. They are there to serve you, and to serve you courteously, and to keep you alive," Berry stated.

"We of the Department of Public Safety and Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol wish you, your friends, and families a happy Thanksgiving. Please drive safely, and courteously, and faithfully obey the traffic laws so that this will truly be a joyous holiday season. Take time to enjoy life," he concluded.

CONSUMER REPORT

BILL ALLAIN,
ATTORNEY GENERAL

DON'T GET BURNED BUYING WOOD

Does the price of oil, gas or electricity have you considering burning wood? You are not alone. Across the country, increasing numbers of consumers are turning to wood either to supplement or totally supply heat.

Although it has become a favored fuel, buying wood is not always a simple matter. Either buy wood from a dealer that you trust or become an educated consumer.

Begin with understanding there are five things to consider when buying wood - the amount of wood, the species, the moisture content, the degree of preparation and finally, the price.

THE AMOUNT

Wood is sold by cords. A standard or full cord is a volume of 128 cubic feet, measured as a pile eight feet long, four feet high, and four feet wide.

Other amounts are less specific:

—A 'face cord' (or a 'short cord') is a pile of wood eight feet long, four feet high, and as wide as the lengths of the cut wood, usually 12, 16 or 24 inches.

—A 'stack' of wood is a poorly defined fraction of a cord.

—And a 'truck load' is a vague term depending on how big the dealer's truck is. A standard pick-up will hold only one-third to one-half of a full cord. Beware of what the dealer claims to be 'about' a cord, delivered in a half-ton pick-up truck. If you are not sure, stack the wood before you pay.

SPECIES

Some species of wood are denser and give off a great deal of heat such as oak and beech. Others don't give off much heat but are easy to start - such as cedar and white pine.

A cord of wood with a good mix is not a bad buy - it's handy to have some easily ignited wood for kindling and heating on warmer days.

MOISTURE

Wood is usually advertised as green or unseasoned. Seasoned or dry wood will give you more heat and ignite more easily. Wet wood has a reduced heating value because some energy is required to evaporate the moisture before the wood will burn.

Since 'seasoned' is a vague term, you should find out how long it has been since the wood was cut. Generally, it should be at least six months.

In the future, buy your wood in the spring or early summer to be sure it will season properly before winter. Besides, you will probably get a lower price by buying in the off-season.

DEGREE OF PREPARATION

Preparing wood is labor intensive, and the price depends on how much work you are willing to do yourself.

It's fairly common to buy wood in four or 16-foot lengths and do some of the cutting and splitting yourself. You will save a lot of money and spend a lot of personal energy.

Other sources of wood requiring varying degrees of preparation include scavenging the local tree dump, picking up windfalls on the roadside, and buying cutting rights from a private landowner.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Neighboring landowner objects to proposed animal shelter site

Dear Sir:

As property owners of five acres adjoining the Hancock County abandoned airfield we wish to express our objections to the proposed animal control facility locating at this site.

We love our place at this location and we take pride in the up-keep of this property.

When the unsophisticated lady Hurricane Camille paid her visit to the Gulf Coast we lost our home on this property. This was our life-time savings swallowed up over night, but we have intentions of rebuilding there within the next two years.

We are thankful to Mr. James Travira for blacktopping Chapmann Road in front of our property and we admire him for objecting to the proposed animal shelter location, not to mention many other things that he has done for this area.

We personally feel that if this animal shelter should come to a reality that not only would our property, but every one in the area would decrease in value.

We would suggest that this animal shelter be located on some of the 16th section land away from a residential area.

We feel it is very unfair to us and everyone in this residential area for this to be a reality.

No one in their right mind would approve of an animal shelter in their back yard.

Sincerely,
Rene Bermond Sr. and

NEWS FROM THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Governor William Winter announced last week that he has established the Governor's Office of Handicapped Services as part of his response to recommendations made by the Mississippi Handicapped Services Task Force.

Winter appointed the task force in May to consider the various problems of handicapped people in Mississippi. Following a series of meetings to study problems of the handicapped, the committee presented its recommendations to Winter. The governor, calling the report submitted by the task force "thoughtful, provocative, and intelligent," presented his response at a news conference.

"I have responded to this report by issuing an executive order that implements the findings of this task force, resulting in the creation within the division of Federal-State-Local programs in my office, a coordinator of handicapped services. I have also authorized an advisory council consisting of 12 members representing handicapped people and parents and guardians of handicapped people in our state."

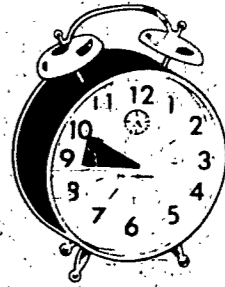

vernor's Office of Handicapped Services will "bring together in a coordinated effort, services to handicapped citizens that are now being administered by a number of different state agencies. By doing so, the governor said, "we can measure the effectiveness of these efforts and make certain that we are not duplicating efforts or eliminating areas where handicapped people need to be served better. We can then also address ourselves to the long-delayed process of removing architectural barriers."

"We have a great deal to do in terms of the continued education of the people to the needs of the handicapped so that we will afford handicapped people the opportunity for full participation in all activities of our society," Winter said.

Winter also announced in his response that he is setting up within his Office of Handicapped Services an advisory council which will work on the "short" and "long" term development of handicapped services. The council will be composed of representatives from various state agencies and the private sector.

Cooking up a Storm

When the Thanksgiving Feast is over, even to that cold turkey sandwich on Thanksgiving night, that's when you have to think about the repeat performance at the dinner table.

Well - turkey hash, with grits, makes a fine lazy-day brunch, as does Turkey Poulette (slices of turkey blanketed in a rich cheese sauce, then run under the broiler until the cheese puffs up and browns a bit).

I like Turkey a la King, in a cream sauce, of course, served on squares of hot cornbread - the traditional Plantation Shortcake of the Old South, and so forth.

When you've tried all these or other ways and still have some of the noble bird resting in the refrigerator, why not serve a Turkey Pilaf, one of the nicest ways I know to use up a few cups of leftover turkey - or, for that matter, chicken or pork or seafood or whatever else is lurking in that dish in the fridge, too good to throw out yet, but whenever in the world are you going to do something with it.

I experimented around through the seasons, and finally came up with the result - you have to add something different, some special taste.

In my case it was saffron - that lovely, aromatic, colorful saffron, that you must use sparingly, lest it get that ugly medicinal taste, which it will if you add too much saffron.

So, let's be French and cook a Pilaf de Dinde (it's only rice with turkey piled atop, so don't run away - it's easy). So, to serve four or six, here's Pilaf de Dinde

Garlic, salt, pepper
1/4 cup parsley
Chop the onion coarsely, and cook in butter or oil or until wilted, add the rice and stir over medium heat till a nice toasty brown, but not too dark-not burned toasty brown.

Meanwhile - after all, you do have two hands, don't you heat the broth of bouillon (made from the cubes) and add to the rice, along with the teeniest pinch of saffron and other seasonings.

Cover and cook over low heat for about 15- or 20 minutes, then add the turkey pieces, cook another 10 minutes or so - and for an extra touch, sprinkle chopped almonds or pecan pieces over. (Copyright, 1980, Katharine D. M. Caire)

Mississippi utility granted rate increase

The State Public Service Commission in Jackson Monday approved a $48.3 million rate hike request for Mississippi Power and Light Co.

In a divided decision the commission approved a rate hike some two-thirds the amount requested by the state's largest utility.

The commission voted two to one in approving a $32.7 million increase, denying the company's request for $68.8 million.

Attorney General Bill Allain said Monday night he would file an appeal to the commission order.

Allain, who sat in on rate hearings, said he had decided to appeal on behalf of all customers because the amount granted was well above the $21 million rate recommended by commission witnesses.

In approving the increase, the commission also reduced the utility company's customer service charge from $4.25 to $3.25 per month. This is the charge MP&L imposes on each customer's bill no matter the amount of electricity he uses.

The utility company put the $68.8 million rate and customer service charge into effect July 1 under bond.

If the commission's order stands, the utility would be required to refund customers for the difference in the proposed and approved rates, plus eight percent interest.

Commissioner Norman Johnson of Philadelphia estimated the refunds would total about $10 million.

The increase would provide MP&L a 9.88 percent rate of return on a rate base of $484.4 million, the commission said.

Alex McKigney, vice president of information for MP&L, said the utility had not decided whether to appeal the decision to the courts.

He said Mississippi Power had requested, "the amount of rate relief required and regrets very much that the full amount was not granted."

"Anything less than the full amount of rate relief requested in the filing will mean that the company will have to file for additional rate relief at an earlier date in the future than otherwise would have been necessary," McKigney stated.

Mississippi Power estimated the average increase in monthly bills to customers under the proposed $68.8 million request would be 16.7 percent, but opponents said some customers were experiencing an increase as high as 28 percent.

Commissioner Lynn Havens of Gulfport opposed the increase and filed a dissenting opinion justifying a $27 million rate hike.

"I thought that in no way did the company prove they were entitled to that amount," Havens said in arguing against the commission majority's position.

"It was a very frustrating case to me. I felt we were in a state of economy where we just had to cut the fat," Havens added.

Approving the increase were Johnson and Commissioner D.W. Snyder of Eupora.

McKigney, in saying the higher rate was justified, said it was the first rate increase requested by Mississippi Power in almost five years, which he said was a period "when the cost of all goods and services were increasing at the highest inflationary rates in American history."

Several groups, including a coalition of organizations representing the poor, had opposed the rate request. Witnesses told the commission poor customers would be forced to choose between paying their electric bills and buying essentials such as food and medicine.

But MP&L said rising costs had eroded its earnings and profits had declined by 25 percent in 1979.

Despite rapidly changing mortgage rates adding to the confusion of an often chaotic housing market, the Veterans Administration believes its GI loan guaranty program continues to offer significant benefits to home-seeking veterans.

The program, which offers guarantees of up to $27,500 or 60 percent of the loan, whichever is less, has a number of advantages for eligible veterans.

Among these are:
—Lower interest rates than conventional mortgages;
—Long amortization periods;

—An assumable mortgage;
—Right of prepayment without penalty;
—No points to be paid by the home-buying veteran;
—A one-year builder's warranty for new homes;
—No down payment in most cases;

—Limitations on closing costs for loans;

Jim Kline claimed it is not difficult to load and unload the motorcycle which is tied to the stern railing of his boat.

"We have an extension for the mainsail boom which converts it into a cargo boom for the cycle," he said.

The Indiana sailor explained by using the mainsail halyard, a winch and a board he is able to easily lift the heavy bike on and off the boat.

Kline said he prevents saltwater from corroding steel components of the motorcycle by regularly coating the machine with penetrating oil.

"I know what that kind of oil can do because I sold the stuff as a salesman," he added amusingly.

The Kline's present excursion will take just less than a year to complete, so the couple plans to undertake the same trip again next fall.

When asked what they liked most about their journey, Jim Kline replied, "The highlight of this trip is not seeing monuments or cities, but it's the people we meet along the way."

disturbing the streets."

Kyle said cable work is "just beginning" and future work will involve laying two miles of 1,200 circuit cable north on Hwy. 603.

A 1,800 circuit cable will be buried south on Nicholson Avenue and Old Spanish Trail to Central Avenue, up Central Avenue to Washington Avenue and north to Old Spanish Trail, Kyle said.

A 600 circuit aerial cable will connect Old Spanish Trail and Garden Isles subdivision.

A telephone company employee said every telephone is connected by a single circuit, the exception being party lines. Each circuit is composed of two separate wires.

Total cost for cable work is $761,000. Kyle said the completion of the project will give "total distribution" to the 467 exchange.

"The Farmer's Daughter" Goes To Town In Her Frilly-Lacy Best—And Is Crowned Miss U.S.A.

Jineane herself gives much of the credit for her great appeal to the soft-flowing frilly Vicky Vaughn dress she is wearing. "I just love it," she says. "Especially the lacy, demure neckline. The whole dress has those pretty-tender touches you know, flirty but innocent—the old-fashioned feminine look that's so important today. And I can wear the pale pastel color everywhere," she adds.

Viewers who watched the Miss U.S.A. pageant are probably aware that a year's wardrobe of Vicky Vaughn dresses were awarded to Miss U.S.A., and that all the contestants wore dresses by Vicky Vaughn. Jineane, a poised, sophisticated 21 (125 lbs., 36"-25"-35"), is relaxed and very comfortable with people and quickly sets others at ease. Raised on her family's farm near Gilbert, Ariz., she grew up with a love for horses, farming and the great outdoors. At the present time Jineane is on leave from Arizona State University. Her interests include public speaking, reading and the study of world religions.

She enjoys snow and water skiing, and is a student of voice, ballet and aerobic dancing, and hopes to go into a public relations career. Touring the country from coast to coast and border to border, Jineane, in her official capacity as Miss U.S.A., is in effect already launched in public relations work. She has come a long way from life on the farm; these days she is meeting and greeting young people in all walks of life as well as leaders of commerce, industry and the academic and entertainment world. And always wearing the loveliest new fashions.

Death rates are higher for women who begin smoking at an earlier age than at a later one.

Charming, disarming Jineane Ford, the current Miss U.S.A., has ash-blond hair and sparkling grey eyes. When she bats her long lashes at a male across a crowded room the poor chap is likely to come promptly unplugged.

Chamber tree lighting moved to Courthouse

By BRENT MACEY
Hancock County's annual Christmas tree lighting ceremony will be at the County Courthouse lawn this year instead of the usual location at the corner of US-90 and North Beach Boulevard. The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, which finances the tree project, decided to change the location. The relocation proposal was accepted at a Nov. 17, County Board of Supervisors meeting.

Chamber President Wayne Ducomb Jr. said, "Vandalism is the primary reason for the relocation."

"Last year we had to purchase lights and electrical extension cords after vandals took almost everything we used to decorate the tree," Ducomb said.

Jeannette Purchner, chamber special events chairman, said there would not be as many activities before and after the lighting ceremony this year.

The date for the lighting is Dec. 1 about 9 a.m., during the board of supervisors' meeting.

"We went through a lot of trouble last year and there was not much of a turn out," she added.

This year's ceremony will include lighting the tree by a yet to be chosen 'Outstanding Citizen of the Year,' accompanied by Mayors Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis and John Longo of Waveland, the county supervisors, and the Chamber's 1980 King Neptune John Rutherford.

Purchner said last year's ceremony included Santa Claus riding a fire engine from Waveland Shopping Center to the tree site. Hot chocolate and cokes were served, and high school choir members sang Christmas carols after the lighting ceremony.

"None of that will be included this year," Purchner said.

"Most of the hot chocolate we had last year ended up going to waste since there wasn't much of a turn out," she reported.

The chamber bought an artificial tree this year.

Purchner said, "It's only about half the size of the old tree. The old tree just wore out."

The chamber is also promoting a Christmas 'shop at home' campaign urging Bay St. Louis shoppers to patronize local retail stores.

Pat Murphy Jr., retail committee chairman, stated, "Only Chamber members will be allowed to participate in the promotion campaign."

Shoppers may register at a participating store. No purchase is necessary.

Jerry Benigno, chamber secretary, said, businesses participating in the program will be determined this week.

An advertisement will be published in several upcoming issues of the Sea Coast Echo with the names of participating Hancock County retailers.

Corps issues Legion pier addition permit

By BRENT MACEY
American Legion Post 139 has received a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' permit for construction of an extension to an existing wood pier and riprap jetty at the east end of Washington St. in Bay St. Louis.

Sam Green, public affairs officer for the Corps regional office in Mobile, Ala. said Tuesday, the construction will include extending a "T" on the pier 20 feet by 20 feet on each side and extending the existing jetty ramp 150 feet into the water. The ramp will be 15 feet wide by utilizing an additional 666 cubic yards of riprap.

Green said the permit was granted due to the recommendations of other state and federal agencies.

Agencies which studied the permit application included the Federal Commission for Fish and Wildlife, Environmental Protection Agency, National Marine Fisheries, Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources and State Bureau of Pollution.

In addition to the approving agencies, a local public hearing was conducted to hear grievances regarding the pier improvements.

The Bureau of Marine Resources in Gulfport conducted the hearing June 4. An advertisement was later published in The Sea Coast Echo by the bureau for additional responses by the public.

The BMR was the only organization to hold a public hearing.

Joe Gill Jr., chief of the Wetlands Division of the bureau, said, "Due to the responses after the public hearing and also environmental information resulting from our own investigation, we granted the permit for construction."

Gill said a report made on the study by his office concluded, "The public interest will be served by providing public fishing facilities and protecting the boat launching ramp for residents of Bay St. Louis and Waveland. No wetland vegetation will be altered. In addition, the jetty will be utilized by the Civil Defence for emergency usage."

Gill said five factors were taken under consideration by the bureau. These included questions regarding possible navigational hazards, effects on currents, public safety, disturbance of water bottom habitat and the effect of additional riprap on marine life in the sound.

Gill said the Bureau decided further construction would yield no negative consequences.

"The bad water quality found on the south beach side of the jetty is the result of the already existing pier. There is nothing we can do about that," Gill said.

The Corps also granted permits to: —Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Fitzpatrick for replacement of a damaged bulkhead and the dredging Bayou Boisdeur near Henderson Point;

—Nathan V. Boddie for a 10-year dredging of a channel near Cat Island. The permit allows 15,000 cubic yards to be dredged in 1980, 7,500 cubic yards in 1985, and 7,500 cubic yards in 1990;

—Harold C. Edgecombe Jr. to construct approximately 80 feet of bulkhead at or above the mean high tide level in Bay St. Louis near Pass Christian.

The Corps cancelled permits to: —George Marse for construction of a bulkhead and fill along the Jourdan River in Hancock County;

—C.G. Perilloux Jr. for excavation of a key-hole boat slip in Cowans Bayou, near Pearlington.

Grand Jury Report.....

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI
OCTOBER 1980 TERM

TO THE HONORABLE J. RUDLE GRIFFIN, CIRCUIT JUDGE, PRESIDING:

We, the Grand Jury, having been duly empaneled, sworn and charged at the July, 1980, Term, now submit our final report. We have been in session for thirteen days, including July 14th, the day we were empaneled, during which time we have considered 90 cases. We returned 67 true indictments and 13 no-bills. We passed 7 cases to the next Grand Jury, and referred 3 to other Courts. We noted 3 cases were stricken from the docket. We heard 70 witnesses.

The Grand Jury recommends that the January, 1981 Grand Jury be furnished copies of this report, and time for familiarization with the "Handbook for Grand Jurors" as their first order of business. We further urge that they closely review our specific recommendations and report accomplishments. County Supervisors and Administrations of the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland are to be furnished copies of this report as well as U. S. Senators Cochran and Stennis, also Congressman Lott, State Senator Smith and State Representative Comptre.

HANCOCK COUNTY HOME FOR THE AGED

The Grand Jury visited the Hancock County Home for the Aged and observed it to be a comfortable, well managed institution presently caring for twelve residents. The Sheriff's office, local volunteer groups and individuals are to be commended for their necessary assistance in the operation of the home. There is only one full-time employee.

NOV 20 1980
HANNY O'NEAL, Circuit Clerk

We recommend that the part-time employee be changed to a full-time employee and we recommend painting and redecoration.

HANCOCK GENERAL HOSPITAL

The Grand Jury visited the hospital on August 1, 1980, when the future of the hospital was in doubt, and a general public concern. Since that time the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Hancock General Board of Trustees have acted to assure the future of Hancock General.

The most important change initiated was the change of management of the hospital from a single administrator to a management firm. In September, the Hospital Board of Trustees contracted with Hospital Corporation of America Management Company, an established and experienced management company. Their selection reduced administrative costs in supply, professional fees, recruitment, and other problem areas. The inspection of the hospital by the Joint Commission on the Accreditation of Hospitals, delayed several times, has been rescheduled for later.

CHANCERY CLERK'S OFFICE

The Chancery Clerk did personally appear and submit his written report. The previous Chancery Clerk had initiated an investment program and Mr. Nocatee has begun pooling general county money for interest drawing 30-day investments. There is now $93,000 in the interest account which is planned to be used to purchase a computer system for improving county services. We feel that is commendable and should be continued.

Mr. Nocatee plans to institute the following changes:

- (1) Improve services by purchasing a computer.
 - (2) Extend office space by building an addition to the side of the Courthouse.
 - (3) Improve employee benefits.
- We submit the following additional recommendations:
- (1) The county should review its overall data processing needs and coordinate operations on the computer.
 - (2) Standardize county employee benefits.

YOUTH COURT

The Grand Jury visited the Hancock County Youth Court and found it to be in very good physical condition. We were informed that the Youth Court was in need of more Counselors, but funds were lacking to hire at this time.

We recommend, as have previous Grand Juries, attention to expanding and training of an adequate staff.

CIVIL DEFENSE

We talked to Mr. Robert Boudin, the Hancock County Civil Defense Director, on October 15, 1980. Mr. Boudin reported that, at the present, his office is adequately staffed with himself and his secretary as full-time employees, and other personnel serving on a volunteer basis. We are particularly concerned with the method of notification of county residents in case of a disaster such as the derailment of a train and the subsequent leakage of toxic gases.

We recommend that evacuation routes for neighborhoods be established and published. We also recommend that when the Civil Defense Director deems it necessary to use speaker cars and house to house notification, these cars be equipped with protective devices for the operators.

HANCOCK COUNTY FORESTS

The Grand Jury heard the report of Mr. M. T. Parker of the State Forest Commission. Forests are highly valuable assets to the County. Our county forests are watched over by a group of 10 full-time persons including two on the lookout towers and three fire supervision crews. In 1979 county crews planted 518,000 seedlings. Over a five year period there have been 367 fires burning 5944 acres. Mr. Parker stated that the number of acres had been reduced from four to three making it difficult to

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald (Ronnie) Peterson reported late Wednesday, "Those indicted will be served within the next few days and names of those indicted will be released after the papers are served."

keep ahead of the fire situation. We recommend and urge citizens support in reporting and controlling the forest fire problems.

EXPUNGEMENT PROGRAM FOR FIRST OFFENDERS

We were advised of a program being advanced by our District Attorney's office by which some first-time, non-violent offenders can have their felony conviction records cleared (expunged). This program in existence in some states, and other Mississippi Counties, helps prevent some young people from having a permanent, lifetime record for one slip into crime and attempts to divert them from the criminal justice system. The program includes probationary periods, restitution of valuables and other requirements.

The Grand Jury agrees that this seems to be a worthwhile, compassionate program. We hereby request that our legislators give consideration to adoption by state legislation of a program for property offenders similar to provisions presently existing for drug offenders, but for no other violations.

PORT AND HARBOR

The Grand Jury toured the 24,000 acre Port and Harbor site. We found the Star Enterprises, Bienville Steel, Bergeron Marine, Halter Marine and Marine Concrete facilities in operation and the Borg Warner plant under construction. Recognizing the potential of this facility, we recommend continued efforts to increased development and we urge citizens' support of this outstanding Hancock County asset.

COUNTY COURTHOUSE

We inspected the Courthouse and found that, though records are generally neatly kept and orderly, there are problems and all offices need more space.

Specific conditions should be corrected:

- (1) Relieve congestion in lobby by moving the refreshment stand.
- (2) Restore the first floor restrooms with paint, paper dispensers, etc.
- (3) Remove fire hazardous apparent trash stored on the 3rd floor.
- (4) Restore loose wallpaper in the Supervisors room and provide proper door locks. (We note that the January Term Grand Jury requested adequate door locks be installed.)
- (5) Assure scheduled inspection of fire extinguishers.

The Grand Jury suggests that consideration be given to building a new Courthouse.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE AND JAIL

We inspected the Sheriff's office and the jail facility. We noted, as have many previous Grand Juries, that they are old, too small, unsafe, unsanitary, deteriorated, and that little can be done without extensive, major repair, renovation and expansion. Rather than repeat previous lengthy lists of problems, we submit several items which stand out as specific problems:

- (1) There is no emergency exit from the upstairs cell area.
- (2) Lack of adequate living, office and storage space.
- (3) Lack of adequate kitchen and prisoner exercise yard.
- (4) Lack of interior restroom and toilet facilities.
- (5) Lack of adequate police vehicle and other parking space.

We recommend the Sheriff and his staff for their good job performance under very difficult conditions.

We discussed the problems with the Sheriff and with members of the County Board of Supervisors. They agree with the Grand Jury and have recognized for some time that a new jail is required and must be a very high priority need. They believe that a new facility is the most economical solution to the problem. We understand that there are presently no state or federal funds available for a new facility. The Sheriff and the Supervisors are presently participating in the National Institute of Corrections program to secure assistance in planning and establishing a new county jail and they are also participating in a study to define and recommend a new jail location.

It is the opinion of this Grand Jury that this is a near-critical situation. Since there is no known alternative for bond issue to secure a new jail, we make our strongest recommendation that the County Board of Supervisors present a bond issue to a responsible voting citizenry for approval, as soon as possible.

TAX ASSESSOR-COLLECTOR

We talked to Mr. Edward Hirtagh, the Hancock County Tax Assessor and Tax Collector, regarding his responsibilities and, in particular, the current property reappraisal. He told of his proposal to institute a system which will allow payment of property taxes by mail, as automobile tags are now secured. Hopefully, such a system, which will eliminate much inconvenience, travel and expense, will be available in the near future.

The State Court has ordered property reappraisal, affirmed by the Supreme Court. The State Tax Commission has been ordered not to allow any county to collect taxes if they have not reappraised by the year 1983. Of the several options available, the County Board of Supervisors and the Tax Assessor have elected to use the "In House" method of reappraisal, using mostly county personnel to accomplish the task. They estimate that the "In House" method will save approximately $500,000 compared to other proposals, with the added advantage of providing trained personnel for future program maintenance. The Legislature has provided taxpayer safeguards which limit the amount of county tax revenue increases through the appraisal. Taxpayers will have opportunity to review the reappraisal prior to finalization of the program results.

HANCOCK COUNTY GULFVIEW ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

On the evening of 19 May 1980, a tornado struck the Gulf View Elementary School causing considerable damage, particularly to the roof, windows, fencing and pumphouse. We have reviewed the events of restoration of that school facility. In this review we have been assisted by the Mississippi State Highway Patrol, the State Auditor's Office and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department. On the morning of May 20, members of the school board attended an emergency meeting to initiate recovery. An emergency was declared since it was necessary to have the school restored for school opening in late August.

The events of the three to four months after the tornado should be a matter of great concern to everyone in Hancock County. There was apparently a general, but not in all individuals or cases, blatant unconcern and disregard for reasonably good business practices and protection of the taxpayers money. There were clear violations of law including federal tax laws.

All of the school board members interviewed have agreed with the Grand Jury that the Gulf View School recovery was very badly managed.

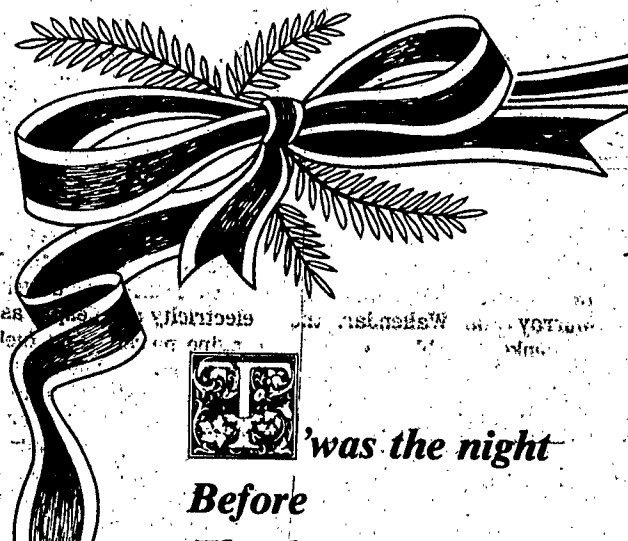

Some of the findings of the Grand Jury:

1. The Sheriff Department did patrol and protect the school and property the night of the storm and the Sheriff offered to provide his deputies thereafter at $3.50 per hour. Gulf Coast Security, a private firm, was retained and paid about $7.50 per hour.
2. An established local roofer was requested by the Board's architect to prepare recommendations and cost estimate for protection of the school roofs and interiors from further damage from the elements. He submitted those recommendations and estimates to the Board at their meeting on the morning of May 20. He informed them that if given the job that afternoon, he would start work the morning of Wednesday, May 21, and have the roofs watertight by Thursday noon, May 22. He never heard again from the architect or the Board.

After the tornado, but prior to the rain damage later in the week, the roofing contractor's estimate of roof damage was approximately $58,000, including temporary repair costs, and his estimate of total cost for all damage incurred was less than $100,000. Neither the school board members nor the Superintendent had an explanation for not taking temporary measures to prevent further damage due to exposure to the elements. Another roofer started roof repairs, apparently on Saturday, May 24. By that time, substantial rains had further damaged the school interiors.

3. The school board authorized the school Superintendent to arrange for most of the restoration work, to do whatever was necessary to complete the job under the stated emergency conditions.
4. The Superintendent of schools entered into a cost-plus type contract with Bay Contractors, Inc., however, he did nothing to verify the costs billed to the Board by Bay Contractors, Inc. and in fact approved a labor bill in excess of $4,800 when no labor was actually performed.
5. The Superintendent of schools would not accept advice from the School Board's architect concerning selection of the General Contractor.
6. The Superintendent of schools did not consult the School Board's attorney concerning the preparation of repair contracts or the settlement of the insurance claim.
7. The Superintendent of schools did not get the competitive bids as required by state law even in emergency situations.
8. The Superintendent of schools contracted with firms which were not licensed to do business in the state and did not secure required bonds to insure satisfactory completion of the work.
9. Considerable new work was done under the emergency conditions. Many new windows replaced undamaged windows.

Grand Jury....

- Members of the school board summarily approved all bills submitted by the Superintendent with no record of any investigation or examination or audit.
- Members of the school board received materials from the General Contractor, including fencing and other salvage from the school site.
- When the school principal requested some of the salvage fencing for use in fencing the school coach's house, which is owned by the county, the fencing was never made available by the board member who got the fencing.
- When the school principal wanted to stop removal of empty barrels which he sought for school yard litter cans, a Contractor's employee quoted a board member as saying "Tell him to find his own barrels."
- The board authorized and paid bills for fencing which amounted to a cost in excess of $24 per foot for the fence. The Sheriff's Department sought other estimates from fencing contractors in the area and received a high estimate of approximately $7 a foot for comparable fencing and installation.
- The board eventually authorized payments totaling more than $300,000 for the school repair work. Less than $170,000 was covered by insurance.
- Two members of the school board worked for contractors hired to do repair work at the school in apparent violation of state conflict of interest laws.

Because of the items cited above, we consider the school board and Superintendent's actions to be totally without concern for the safeguarding of the county's assets, grossly negligent and in some instances criminal. We have returned criminal indictments as we considered warranted at this phase of investigation and would like to make the following recommendations to the Court and others in position of authority, including the state legislature, to avoid such wasteful and criminal conduct in the future:

- The District Attorney should file civil actions against all school board members and the Superintendent of schools to obtain recovery for the county funds wasted through their grossly negligent and/or criminal activity.
- The investigation of this case should continue by the Sheriff's Department, the State Auditor's office and other available investigative agencies and any new evidence discovered which might possibly warrant criminal indictments should be presented to future Grand Juries.
- The state legislature should pass laws making it criminally illegal for publicly elected officials or state, county or municipal employees to accept gifts and particularly gifts of salvage, from those holding state, county, municipal or other public positions.
- The security provided at emergency damage sites should be the responsibility of the policing organizations with jurisdiction in the location of the emergency.
- Some secure area of facility owned and operated by the county authority should be established and used to store and protect school property.
- All public organizations (the state, cities, counties, school districts, etc.) which own real property in this state should develop a set of emergency procedures designed to safeguard the assets as best possible and designate a panel of at least three persons to supervise the carrying out of these procedures.
- A law should be enacted requiring all contracts written to retain title to salvage with the original owner as opposed to giving title to salvage to the contractor.

OTHER

This Grand Jury concurs in the recommendations of previous Grand Juries for sanctions and penalties for persons who do not respond to jury duty summons for good and sufficient reasons.

We are informed that state law restricts payment of jurors' travel pay to one day, round trip, for any one jury term. We recommend to our legislature that a more reasonable travel allowance schedule be established.

The Grand Jurors wish to express their appreciation for the opportunity to serve the citizens of Hancock County. We have completed our duties and request that we be recessed this 26th day of November, 1980.

Respectfully submitted,

James J. McPartey
Grand Jury Foreman

VA News

—VA valuation appraisal. VA loan officers across the country report recent fluctuations in mortgage interest rates have surprised veterans who believed they had nailed down one mortgage rate only to be confronted with a higher rate at settlement. Many of them blame VA for this situation.

But agency officials point out the VA does not actually make loans; it merely tells mortgage lenders it will guarantee a portion of a home loan at a specific rate in effect on the date the loan is closed.

A Mississippi VA official reported recently, "The VA interest rate is changed to meet the demands of the mortgage market and to minimize the cost of home ownership to the veteran while ensuring that mortgage funds will be available." "While a veteran may agree with a seller to purchase at a certain interest rate, the terms of the loan are not subject to the terms of the sales contract. Any separate agreement with the mortgage lender will be subject to the VA maximum rate in effect at the later date of loan settlement," the spokesman explained.

VA officials also point out the assumable mortgage feature of a VA guaranteed mortgage can be a real advantage in today's housing market where lenders often refuse to allow a buyer to assume a conventional, relatively low rate mortgage and require a new loan at current rates.

No way windmills can compete with Persian Gulf oil in electrifying the rural landscape!

Disappointing? Yes, but true? Positively, say researchers out in the state of Kansas where the prairie winds are as ceaseless as the accumulation of taxes to be paid.

So in the face of higher and higher prices for oil, energy planners still can't contemplate relief anytime soon by trapping the wind's energy, even in the American prairies where its constancy and velocity are legend.

The scientific facts are that more than 40 years ago, from 1932-1938, two Kansas State University electrical engineers made extensive studies of the possibilities of utilizing the state's wind energy. Yet the difficulties R. G. Kloeffler and E. L. Sitz pinpointed in their work are still with us and no solution is in sight.

Pumping water for livestock is another matter, and accounts for the century old practice of utilizing picturesque windmills out on those solitary plainscapes to turn the gears that draw a small but steady stream of water into a holding trough to water livestock.

Even in the late 19th century Kansas State researchers fiddled around with a jumbo 14 feet long by eight feet in diameter windmill designed so simply, they said, that any farmer with a hammer and saw and a little help from his blacksmith could assemble. Then, as early as 1914-1916 there followed university experiments on wind-electric plants.

Kloeffler and Sitz described their model as a large wind wheel of the multi-bladed type that was connected by stepped up gears to a generator. The whole rig was mounted atop a high tower and voltage regulation was attained through the use of relays.

Around 1925 commercial wind-electric plants using two and three bladed propellers appeared on the plains market, and owners around Kansas reportedly were generally satisfied. Yet the two researchers set out to improve the operation of these plants and increase their efficiency to benefit Kansas farmsteads remotely located far from their existing power lines.

All of their research and experiments proved that while at first they could generate electricity as cheaply as with engine power using fuel, the wind power failed to give service as reliable and complete as did the engines. They summarized their findings in KSU Engineering Experiment Station Bulletin

REBEL TENNIS TEAM

The Ole Miss Lady Rebel tennis team has completed one of its best-ever fall campaigns, finishing with an 8-2 mark against some of the top-ranked teams in the South. "We have a solid team," said Coach Billy Chadwick, "and we seem to be getting better with every match. Before this year, we could only expect to pick up wins at a few positions. Now, I feel like we can play with anybody because we have a balanced team with strength at every position in singles and doubles." Catherine Yelverton, the first Lady Rebel to ever advance to national competition and Ramona Kent, voted most valuable player on the squad last year, are already proven players for the 1980-81 squad. Freshmen Kathleen Murray and Lelia Wallendar, both from Texas, have provided the Rebels with a pair of standouts. Murray and Wallendar, the top-ranked doubles team in Texas, were undefeated in singles competition during the fall campaign. Chadwick said he was also pleased with the play of Denise Barbiero and Ramona Kent at doubles.

No. 52 in 1946 by reporting:

"The cost of electric energy from a power line will likely range from three to six cents per kilowatt-hour compared to a probable cost of 12 to 30 cents per kilowatt-hour when furnished by any other form of home electric plant. Hence, whenever possible the farmer should secure service from a transmission line."

A real problem exists even in the generally windy plains states with sustained wind velocities. There also, they are beset with occasional calm days and a slackening in wind velocity at night below operating efficiency.

And while periods of high-velocity winds favor the generation of electrical power, they inflict damage to generating plants atop their towers.

These serious, long-term studies in harnessing wind power in a region that probably has the greatest potential in the United States is significant, and should behoove Mississippians not to expect any great breakthroughs in wind use in this state where summers are fraught with considerable numbers of muggy days when there is scarcely a breeze stirring.

Claims to the contrary deserve scrutiny before investments are made.

Hancock distributing Christmas savings checks

Hancock Bank Christmas Club members in Bay St. Louis are receiving checks totalling more than $258,165.00. Pass Christian members are receiving $198,863.00 in interest.

Robert L. Hamilton, vice president and manager of the Bay St. Louis bank, and James R. Ginn, vice president and manager of the Bay-Waveland branch said, Christmas Club checks were mailed Thursday.

Leo W. Seal, Jr., president of Hancock Bank, said more than $1,597,780 overall has been sent to Hancock Bank club members in South Mississippi.

Seal said this all-time high set a new mark for Christmas Club savings in South Mississippi, and he commended savers in the club for continuing the practice of systematic savings programs. Seal reported this year's savings increased by approximately $120,000 over last year.

"With more than $1.5 million dollars sent to Christmas Club members throughout South Mississippi at this time the money will add greatly to the local economy of every community in our area if Christmas shoppers buy at home," Seal said.

A bank spokesman said, 1980 marks the 67th year the club plan has been offered to South Mississippi residents by Hancock Bank.

It was initiated on the Coast by the bank in 1914 and has continued annually, with the exception of World War I when savings were converted for the purchase of Liberty Bonds.

Citing reasons individuals use the Christmas Club plan, Seal said, "In addition to using the funds for Christmas gift buying, many club members use this systematic saving plan to purchase savings certificates, to start or add to savings accounts, for year-end taxes, bills, insurance premiums, and to add to college education saving programs for their children."

"Christmas Club accounts are available in six payment classes from 50 cents to $10 a week, or for any combination of classes depending on the amount to be set aside for next Christmas," Seal explained.

He noted savers earn 5 percent interest per annum on Christmas Club accounts at Hancock Bank, and interest is calculated from the date of deposit. He also explained a new method of Christmas Club saving will be inaugurated this year at the bank in order to simplify account opening procedures in the future.

The 1981 Christmas Club is now open at all Hancock Bank locations on the Coast, in Picayune and Poplarville. Seal added the 1981 Christmas Saving program is starting earlier than usual so selected clubs can be completed in October and checks mailed to savers in early November next year.

Participants in the club program may have payments deducted automatically from their checking account each month to apply to their Christmas saving fund.

Hancock libraries list new books

Books now available from any branch of the Hancock County Library System are:

—Atomic Soldiers by Howard L. Rosenberg, subtitled American Victims of Nuclear Experiments; this is a timely and unsparring account of how U.S. nuclear test policies were guided and executed in the early years of the atomic age. The reader meets in flesh and blood the young military men who became guinea pigs and finally victims of one of the saddest misuses of government in history.

—The Return of Eva Peron by V. S. Naipaul. One of the great writers of our time projects his vision of our "half-made societies" - Argentina, Trinidad, and the Congo - and their crippling surrender to destruction in the most compelling essays he has written.

—Friendly Fascism: The New Face of Power in America by Bertram Gross. Building from the strongest arguments of the right and the left, Gross presents a unique view of America's future. Must reading for everyone who is disturbed by the erosion of personal liberty in this country and wants to see a true democracy in America.

—Hear That Lonesome Whistle Blow by Dee Brown (author of Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee). The breathtaking story of the five major transcontinental railroads that crossed this country before the end of the nineteenth century and the people who built them.

—The Rebecca Notebook and Other Memories by Daphne DuMaurier. A marvelous collection of Dame Du Maurier's writings, including the journal she kept while planning Rebecca, perhaps the most famous Gothic suspense thriller ever published.

—Confederates by Thomas Keneally. An unforgettable portrait of human beings suffering, rejoicing, laughing, dying. Set in 1862, at the floodtide of Southern hopes, it reaches its stirring climax at the Second Battle of Antietam, evoking the cruel conflicts of war, its victories and tragedies, with a breathtaking grandeur that will grip the reader from the first page to the last.

—Joanna Reddighood by Elly Weh. In a midwestern medical center, Joanna's eleven-year-old son is battling for his life, and soon Joanna is fighting for hers, as lust and ambition lead to murder! An absorbing and intimate portrait of interlocking lives in a medical community that are changed forever by the impact of a woman's efforts to save her son, and to discover herself.

—The Clan of the Cave Bear by Jean M. Auel. The saga of that crucial moment of evolution when two races, the Neanderthal and the Cro-Magnon, locked in a death grip, battle for their very existence. With its exquisite detail of a world that truly might have been, it is filled with awesome mystery and magic and infused with the drama of human survival.

—Puffball by Fay Weldon. An ironic and outrageous tale of witchcraft and childbirth, by turns hilarious and frightening. A sheer delight.

Bay High cagers win Pass Round-Robin Tournament

By RON LUSICH
STUDENT PRINTZ
SPORTS WRITER

The Bay Senior High Tigers won the Pass Christian Round-Robin Tournament last weekend with a perfect record of 3-0.

The "fired up" Tigers soundly defeated Long Beach 57-44, St. Martin 57-42, and out-hustled the Pass Pirates in a nail-bitten victory 47-46.

In gaining their first victory of the tournament against Long Beach, Roger (Bird) Woodall won high man honors with a spectacular 22-point performance. Darrell (Hollywood) Robinson also hit a double figures with 20 points. The second game of the tournament, was a heart-stopping one against Pass Christian High School. Keith (Magic) Johnson was the high man with 14 points. Keenan (Slim) Bell brought the crowd to their feet with a "slam dunk".

Bay High held down the Pirates with their excellent defense. Don Acker and Roger Woodall held up the Tigers in the fourth quarter with 100 percent shooting from the charity line.

In the final games on Saturday night the Bay High Five-backed by an enthusiastic mob of cheerleaders, former students, parents and faculty routed St. Martin 57-42 to take the first place trophy.

For the tournament, Don Diboll pulled down 27 rebounds and Andy Barrett 20. Keith Johnson and Darrell Robinson each had seven assists. Roger Woodall led the team with six steals, followed by Don Acker with five.

The tournament victories put the Tigers at 4-1 for the year.

Pearl River's men's team walks out of tournament

Pearl River College's participation in the Jones Invitational Tournament in Ellisville came to an abrupt end Saturday when Wildcat Coach Billy Holmes was issued three technical fouls within a span of 20 seconds.

PRC spokesman Larry Stanford said this week, "According to league rules when a coach gets three T's he is automatically suspended from the game and the gym. Holmes decided not to leave by himself so he took his Wildcats with him and forfeited the game to the Jones Bobcats."

"Jones was leading the afternoon contest 53-40 with 15 minutes and 37 seconds remaining on the scoreboard clock when the PRC Wildcats headed for the showers. Merv Sharpe, head coach of the Pearl River Wildcats in 1967-68, was the official who issued the technicals," Stanford reported.

The forfeit put the Wildcats' record at 2-5 before the Thanksgiving break and was PRC's fifth consecutive setback.

Friday night, in the same Jones' Tournament, the Gulf Coast Bulldogs handed the Wildcats a 87-59 loss and last Monday the East Mississippi Lions hit the 'Cats with a 63-46 decision.

"We're just not disciplined enough on offense and gutty enough on defense. We must start playing scrappy basketball," Holmes stated.

Stanford noted, "Other problems for the Wildcats during the past few games have been poor outside shooting and the lack of bench strength."

Holmes explained, "We just don't have the height inside so we must hit from the wings and we sure haven't been doing that at all."

Stanford explained, "The Wildcats, under Holmes the past two seasons, have been 'run and gun' type teams, but with only nine players the Wildcat head master has slowed his unit down here in 1980."

"Landry Cage, a freshman from Vacherie, La. had a good week for the Wildcats. Against East Mississippi he was the 'Cats' leading scorer with 17 points. Saturday afternoon Cage had hit for 22 points when the team exited," Stanford said.

Pearl River's next contest is against the Southwest Bears at Summit. The Wildcats' next home game is Thursday, Dec. 4 against the Gulf Coast Bulldogs.

The Department will permit either-sex hunting from Dec. 13-20, and again from Dec. 27-Jan. 4, west of the west base of the main Mississippi River levee in DeSoto and Tunica Counties.

The bag limit for either-sex hunting in all areas during both the primitive weapons and the regular gun seasons will be one antlerless deer per day, two per season, in addition to the one legal buck per day already permitted.

State's 'either sex' deer seasons listed

Hunters across Mississippi will have a chance at shooting either-sex deer this season in certain defined areas, said officials of the Department of Wildlife Conservation recently.

One day has been designated for Hancock County's still hunters. The agency sets either-sex seasons each year in an effort to keep the state's deer herd healthy. Hunters remove only a surplus portion of the deer herd without being detrimental to the overall deer population.

A department spokesman said, "Hunters will be permitted to take either a buck or a doe during the Dec. 2-12 primitive weapons season in all areas of the state open to gun hunting for deer, and on state operated wildlife areas open to deer hunting."

"During the various regular gun seasons for deer across Mississippi, hunters may take either-sex deer in the following counties: Grenada and Yalobusha, Dec. 13-17; Carroll, south of Hwy. 82; Montgomery; and Webster, west of Hwy. 9. Hunting dates are Dec. 13-26. Still hunting only," the spokesman reported.

"Choctaw, excluding Choctaw Wildlife Management Area; Winston, north of Hwy. 14 and excluding Choctaw Wildlife Management Area and Noxubee Refuge; Noxubee, excluding Noxubee Refuge; Lauderdale, north of I-20 and east of Hwy. 39, and that part south of I-20 and east of Hwy. 45; Clarke; Jasper, excluding Tallahala Wildlife Management Area; Newton, south of Hwy. 80 and excluding Tallahala Wildlife Management Area; Lowndes, south of Hwy. 82; and Kemper. Hunting dates are Dec. 13-17. Still hunting only," the spokesman said.

Officials explained Attala County, lying north of Hwy. 12, will have either-sex hunting on Dec. 13-14. Coahoma County, west of the west base of the main Mississippi River levee will permit hunters to shoot a buck or a doe from Dec. 13-Jan. 15. Bolivar and Washington Counties west of Hwy. 1 will be open Dec. 13-Jan. 4.

"Hunters may take either a buck or a doe south of Hwy. 18 and west of Hwy. 61 in Adams, Amite and Claiborne Counties. Yucatan Island will not be open. Hunting dates are Dec. 13 and again on Dec. 20. Still hunting only," the spokesman noted.

"Other areas open for either-sex hunting include: Copiah, west of I-55 south of Hwy. 27 and south of Hwy. 18; Franklin; Jefferson; Lincoln, west of I-55; Pike, west of I-55; Warren, west of Hwy. 61 and south of I-20; and Wilkinson.

Biloxi Toughman Contest open to local residents

The internationally known Toughman Contest will have a tournament in the Mississippi Coast Coliseum Dec. 12 and 13. Fighters will be competing for $2,500 in cash prizes in the heavyweight and light heavyweight divisions.

A tournament spokesman said this week, "The winner of the heavyweight crown will receive an automatic invitation to the international tournament to be held in the Silver-Dome in Pontiac, Mich., in October, 1981. $80,000.00 in cash prizes will be awarded to the top four finishers in the finals and the bouts will be shown on NBC television."

"The Toughman Contest has been featured on the Phil Donahue Show, and on Real People, both NBC television network shows, and Toughman has a three-year contract with the network to televise the finals," the spokesman noted.

"King of the Hill Productions of Biloxi will serve as co-promoters of the show," the spokesman added.

"Dean Oswald, vice president of Toughman, is tournament director. He is the originator of the concept and has over 20 years experience as an amateur and professional boxer, trainer and coach," the spokesman reported.

Entries must be over 18 years of age; a resident of Mississippi, Louisiana or Alabama; not more than five sanctioned wins in the past five years; never boxed as a professional, and pass a physical examination.

The light heavyweight division is from 160 to 175 pounds. The heavyweight division is from 176 to 400 pounds.

Fighters may register with Dean Oswald at the Buena Vista Hotel, or at The Factory Seafood Restaurant, on East Beach in Biloxi.

PRC Lady Wildcats clawed by Bobcats

Pearl River College's Lady Wildcats dropped a 91-78 decision to the Jones Lady Bobcats Monday night in the Jones Junior College Tournament in Ellisville.

"The loss was the third in a row for the PRC girls and it dropped their 1980-81 ledger to 2-3 before the Thanksgiving break," said PRC spokesman Larry Stanford this week.

"Freshman Jennifer Ramshur had another good night for the Lady Wildcats as she hit for a season high 25 points. Also scoring in double figures were Tedia Hookfin, 13, and Shelly Dedeaux 10," Stanford reported.

Linda Darty led the Lady Bobcats with 27, while teammates Charlene Jones scored 16 and Annie Jones 12.

Billy Holmes, head coach of the Lady Wildcats said, "It seems we need to concentrate on better defense. I'm still very pleased with our hustle and determination but we have to work harder on defense."

The Lady Wildcats are averaging 75 points per contest while giving up an average of 70 points per contest.

"We are competing well and playing respectably and the more we play against top clubs like Jones and Gulf Coast the better we will get," Holmes noted.

Friday night the Lady Wildcats dropped a 70-63 decision to Gulf Coast in the same Jones Tournament. In that game Tedia Hookfin was the 'She Cats' leading scorer with 14 points. Glenda Gardner also added 12 in that contest.

The Lady Wildcats will travel to Summit Tuesday to play the Southwest Lady Bears. On Thursday, Dec. 4, the PRC women will tangle again with Gulf Coast at the PRC coliseum. Game time is 6:30 p.m.

Bay university student in cooperative program

Katherine M. Ross of Bay St. Louis is participating in a cooperative education program at Mississippi State University while working for a B.A. degree in petroleum engineering.

University Relations Director

Gerry Gilmer said this week, "Under a five-year program she is receiving not only her regular college education, but also two years of practical experience in Petroleum Engineering."

"In addition to this experience she receives a salary. This financial reward is only one of the many advantages of the Cooperative Education Program," Gilmer noted.

Ross is completing a work semester with U.S. Geological Survey in Methur, La. and will be returning to the Mississippi State campus for the spring semester.

During this work semester she says her duties have included assisting engineers in the unit in order to create a secure, efficient and comprehensive data repository by the organizing, compiling, cataloging and filing of proprietary and non-proprietary engineering data.

Ross said recently regarding the work assignment, "It has given me an insight into the professional world and has taught me some practical applications of the engineering theories and techniques taught in school."

LD group sponsoring fundraising projects

The Hancock County Chapter of the Mississippi Association of Children with Learning Disabilities met recently with chapter president Marion Dailey presiding.

"Everyone was encouraged to help sell a cooking flavoring. We still are asking members to sell this product to their friends and relatives to raise funds for our organization," Dailey said.

It was reported Joyce Ladner will represent the Hancock chapter at an upcoming conference in Jackson. Karen Pennington and Louise Abrams will represent the Hancock County School District. Dailey said, "Dec. 13 we will have a fundraising drive. Be looking for us or volunteer to collect donations to make this a big success."

Betty D'Aquila was guest speaker at the meeting.

Dailey said, "She reviewed aspects of the 'Mattie T' case and ACLD involvement in that case. Those present were able to review this case with her and learned how it will affect our children in the years to come."

At the upcoming Dec. 15 meeting, Dr. Basel Gaar will be guest speaker.

He is a professor in the Special Education Department of the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg.

"We will have dinner with teachers and principals and all members are encouraged to attend this meeting, at Scafield's Wheel Inn Restaurant on US-90 in Bay St. Louis," Dailey reported. For more information call Dailey at 255-9287.

Harry F. Gilmore Jr. has been selected by The Marquis Who's Who Publications Board to publish his biography in the 1980-1981 edition.

Gilmore is former administrator of Hancock General Hospital and resident of Bay St. Louis. He will be featured in the Who's Who in the South and Southwest.

The certificate announcing the publication's selection of Gilmore states: "... inclusion is limited to those individuals who have demonstrated outstanding achievement in their own fields of endeavor and who have, thereby, contributed significantly to the betterment of contemporary society ..."

The Marquis Who's Who is published every two years and features accomplishments of people in all walks of life.

Gilmore and his wife reside on Ramoneda Street and have two sons, Richard Allen and Kenneth, a student at the University of Southern Mississippi; and one daughter, Donna, a student at Bay Senior High School.

He has a BS degree from USM, a hospital administrator for 11 years; attained a license for a nursing home administration; and is a registered technologist and x-ray technologist.

Base offers

used items to public

The Defense Property Disposal Office at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi intends to abandon and destroy items consisting of deteriorated carpet, mattresses, ponchos, chairs, and tables.

A base spokesman said, "These items will be offered for donation first to public bodies, then charitable organizations, and finally to the general public on a first come, first serve basis."

"Items will be abandoned-destroyed in the Keesler sanitary landfill on Dec. 2," the spokesman stated. Anyone interested in the acquisition of the property prior to it being abandoned in the landfill should contact Richard L. Kimball, DPDO-Keesler by telephoning 377-3327, prior to Dec. 2, 1980.

The Soviet Union has the largest reserves of natural gas with Iran having the second-largest reserves. — CNS

In recent ceremonies a Kiln native received the U.S. Army's highest recruiting award.

Lt. Col. Roy S. Lombardo Jr., commanding officer of the U.S. Army District Recruiting Command in New Orleans said, "The award is a Army Recruiter's Ring. Executed in gold with an emerald stone, it is bestowed only on those recruiters who have already earned the Recruiting Command's seven other awards for continuous over-achievement-an achievement reached by very few."

In recent ceremonies marking the occasion, SFC Emmett A. Ladner of Kiln received the gold ring at the Army Recruiting Station in Slidell.

Ladner is a field recruiter at the Army Recruiting Station in Gulfport.

Lombardo stated during ceremonies, "The ring not only symbolizes the highest achievement which can be earned by members of the Army Recruiting Command but, more importantly, the ring represents hard work, excellent organizational ability, outstanding production records and superb recruiting skills on the part of the recruiter."

Ladner and his wife also received signed certificates recognizing his unusual accomplishments which attest to his successful recruiting record.

A Child's World. The artistry of Frances Hook in fine porcelain.

She is one of America's most respected portrait artists. Children are her favorite subjects. Generations have grown up with—but never outgrown—her inspirational illustrations which are found in more than two dozen books. For A Child's World, Frances has created new and original works that some critics believe will prove to be the most important in the collection.

In honor of National Bible Week, all bibles in stock are 10 percent off. Offer good through Saturday.

We also carry limited edition porcelain figurines by Roman and selections from the American Heritage Collection.

Psalm 97 is a Bookstore that offers an endless list of personal and friendly, as well as spiritual needs.

Some of Santa's Little Helpers won't have a Merry Christmas.

Unfortunately, it happens every Christmas Season. Some people think they can save money on Christmas shopping by stealing. Others do it as a prank. None think they'll get caught. But those who do get caught go to jail or pay a very stiff fine. Because

VISITING BRASS—Brig. Gen. William Hipps (USAF—Ret.), right, and Sam Moody were house guests of Lionel Baxter, Bay St. Louis. Moody was a POW with Baxter's brother J.C. at Bilibid, Manila after the fall of Corregidor and Bataan. The Baxter's attended the 35th anniversary of the fall to the Japanese in Manila in April of this year and met with Gen. Hipps, Moody and survivors of the fall. J.C. Baxter and Sgt. Moody were captured by the Japanese in the fall and were taken prisoners of war. Moody served under Gen. Hipps, a former squadron commander. The four, and Moody's brother Robert, a resident of Waveland, enjoyed a fishing trip during their stay. Sgt. Moody is a past commander of American Defenders of Bataan and Corregidor. Slidell Theater rehearsing melodrama

Rehearsals for "Love Rides the Rails" with Ray Ward directing are currently underway at Slidell Little Theater.

Cast includes Margaret Rennie as Mrs. Hopewell. "Oliver" fans will remember Margaret as the lovable widow Corney who caught the eye of the mischievous Mr. Bumble.

Rita Ballou is Prudence Hopewell with Don Davis playing Simon Darkway. David Miller steps out of his usual singing roles and plays Truman Pendennis.

Andy Kerley is Harold Stanfast with Dan Tearpock in the role of Dirk Sneath. Cyndi Martin plays Carlotta Cortez. Cyndi was in "Death Takes A Holiday" portraying Rhoda. Charlyn Schmidt is Fifi and Judy Spear is Beulah. The story begins when Simon Darkway seeks to control for his own vile purposes the Walker Valley, Pine Bush & Pacific R.R.

Opposing him are the gallant Truman Pendennis, the beautiful Prudence Hopewell, and staunch Harold Stanfast.

Assisting him are Dirk Sneath, a viper of a man, and Carlotta Cortez, the sultry siren with a heart of gold. Swiftly and hilariously, the plot unfolds, leading to a tremendous climax when the hero is bound by the villains to the tracks in the path of an onrushing train.

The production opens Nov. 28 with the last performance on Dec. 13.

Performances are on weekends with an 8 p.m. curtain.

Sunday matinee will be Dec. 7 with a 3 p.m. curtain.

Tickets will be sold at the door, adults $4 and students $2.

Advice on breaking the smoking habit

STOP SMOKING TIPS

Set a date to quit and write it down on a three by five inch card. Carry the card with you and read it often. The quit date should be less than four weeks in the future; even one day ahead is enough.

Gradually reduce the number of cigarettes you smoke, day by day until, on your target date, you quit. Remove ashtrays. Put cigarettes away.

Change brands to progressively lower nicotine levels.

Stop smoking - and quit - cold turkey.

If you continue to smoke, do it only in one spot - one that is isolated, uncomfortable, and devoid of amusements such as television, books or food.

Announce to all your friends that you are definitely quitting. This will help keep you from backsliding.

Ask your children what they really think of your smoking.

WHAT TO DO WHEN YOU QUIT SMOKING

When the urge to smoke hits, do something else quickly, such as take a deep breath. Repeat, hold it for 10 seconds, then release it slowly.

Get plenty of exercise, preferably out-of-doors. Exercise burns off calories, makes you feel better, and gets you out of the coffee and cigarettes rut. A simple walk around the block after dinner can replace dessert and a cigarette.

Drink plenty of liquids such as seasoned tomato juice, broth, milk, all juices rich in vitamin A. Pass up soft drinks and coffee since both are stimulants that can enhance the appetite for food and cigarettes.

Stay away from alcoholic beverages or keep them to a minimum for a few weeks. Avoid parties for a while.

A snack is a great way to resist the impulse to smoke, but make it light in calories and high in nutrition - fresh fruit, a hard-boiled egg, or crisp vegetables with a lot of crunch.

Notice how much better things taste and smell! Keep your hands occupied. Try playing a musical instrument, knitting, or fiddling with hand puzzles.

Take a long shower. It's hard to smoke in the shower. Never face the crisis of craving a cigarette alone. Find someone you can call or visit at this critical time. The ex-smokers among your friends can be most helpful.

MISSISSIPPI
The State Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Jackson reports the 1980 watermelon acreage planted is estimated at 11,500 acres, down 14 percent from the 13,300 acres planted in 1979. Harvested acreage is placed at 10,500 acres, down nine percent from the 11,500 acres harvested last year.

Production from the 1980 crop is estimated at 735,000 cwt. for a yield of 70 cwt. per acre. This is 29 percent below the 1979 production of 1,035,000 cwt. The value of the 1980 watermelon crop is placed at $3,043,000, 25 percent below the 1979 figure of $4,057,000.

A cool, wet spring in Mississippi delayed planting and slowed germination and the hot, dry summer reduced yields and resulted in several abandoned stands. Harvest began later than normal.

UNITED STATES
Watermelon production during the summer quarter at 10.6 million cwt. is 10 percent less than last year's output. The area harvested at 104 thousand acres is down 5 percent from 1979.

The crop's average yield of 102 cwt. compares to 108 cwt. for the same period a year ago. In Alabama, yields were reduced as a result of hot, dry weather.

The drought that has plagued Oklahoma since the third week of June substantially cut watermelon yields and reduced the amount of acres for harvest.

Most of California's desert watermelon crop was harvested during the spring quarter. Carry-over into the summer was normal with good yields overall.

In the other areas of California, watermelon harvest got underway in early July and moved northward through the central valley. West Riverside County increased shipments as the valley harvest neared completion. Mites were a problem in some areas and yields were a little lower.

HOT LIPS

Sally Kellerman, who created the original "Hot Lips Houlihan" for the movie "M-A-S-H," portrays another memorable heroine in "Big Blonde" on "Great Performances" at 8 p.m., Monday, December 1, on the Mississippi ETV Network. Adapted from Dorothy Parker's award-winning short story, "Big Blonde" stars Miss Kellerman as Hazel Morse, a model and playgirl whose life becomes increasingly shabby as her youth and good looks disappear. John Lithgow portrays her hard-drinking husband, who eventually leaves her, and George Coe stars as Hazel's suitor. "Big Blonde," which won the O. Henry short story award in 1919, is one of the best known works by Dorothy Parker, who is equally well-remembered for her witty and often caustic reflections on the human condition.

City revitalization meeting to be aired live on cable TV

Economic Revitalization will be the theme of 'The National League of Cities-Congress of Cities Convention,' Dec. 1, 2 and 3, in Atlanta, Ga.

The program will be carried 'live' on cable television, according to Alan Beals, executive director of the league of cities.

Hancock Community Cable, this week advised the mayors of both Bay St. Louis and Waveland, it would be airing the presentation 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. on Cable Channel 4.

Meeting with Waveland City Council recently, the cable company Manager Jake Jacob said such coverage is in the public interest and will provide valuable input to local civic officials, community leaders, and the general public.

"Additionally, this programming will probably dovetail into the civics curriculum of students in several of our area schools," Jacob explained.

"Julian Bond, former Georgia state representative, will provide commentary and interviews during the direct from the floor coverage," he said.

Mayors John Longo of Waveland and Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis expressed interest in the project saying that while membership in the league is limited to those municipalities having considerably larger populations than either of the two local entities, many of the problems encountered by local governments are identical.

The league announced Monday that 'Day One's' coverage would center on the coming change in the nation's administration and its possible impact on cities. 'Day Two' will focus on re-industrialization, revenue sharing, and energy conservation, while 'Day Three' will range interests through employment issues, the telecommunications revolution, and a summary of the convention's achievements.

GI Bill benefits upped by Congress

Bigger checks for veterans training under the GI Bill was one of the provisions of a law to increase veterans' benefits signed by the President on October 17, according to Mike Ladner, Hancock County veterans service officer.

A 10 percent increase in educational allowances was made possible by the "Veterans Rehabilitation and Education Amendments of 1980."

Education checks due November 1 for an estimated 600,000 veteran-students and dependents in training included a five percent boost. The balance of the 10 percent hike will be reflected in checks due February 1. Payment for training taken after January 1 will include the full 10 percent increase.

Single veterans who are full-time students will receive a November check of $327 - 16 more than the October check. Beginning February 1981, these students will get $342, or a boost of $15 over their October checks.

Monthly payments for veterans with one dependent will be increased from $370 to $389 in November and to $407 in February, and for veterans with two dependents, from $422 to $443 to $464. For each additional dependent, the extra allowance will rise from $26 to $27 to $29.

The legislation also calls for major improvements in VA's vocational rehabilitation program for service-connected disabled veterans which include a 17 percent increase in monthly allowance in the November checks of approximately 11,000 trainees and increased job counseling and placement procedures.

The new law also increased VA tutorial assistance payments by 10 percent and changed the amount VA can pay under correspondence or flight training for students who enroll in these programs after Sept. 1, 1980.

For them, VA can pay 70 percent of the total charges for correspondence training or 60 percent of those for flight training. These changes in rate of payment are effective October 1. Students who enrolled September 1 or earlier will continue to get 90 percent of the total charges throughout the course.

For the first time, however, flight training students will be eligible for education loans based on need of up to $2,500. Also in the legislation was a change in the way VA will pay veteran-students training while in jail. Veterans imprisoned on a felony conviction will no longer receive monthly educational allowances but will be reimbursed for training expenses.

Guideline instructions on these program revisions are now being developed at VA Central Office in Washington.

ON CHANGING THE HANDLE

A bit of back forty philosophy concerning broken farm implements is in order now that a lot of U. S. citizens apparently have felt that their government has broken down in its ability to perform in the modern world as compared with the past.

Farmers have a way of putting pithy wisdom into easy-to-understand terms which reminds us of an old rural axiom that would advise the inexperienced woodsman not to throw away the axe when the handle becomes broken - but to replace the handle.

A rather large proportion of Mississippi farmers went against tradition in the recent landslide election of President-elect Ronald Reagan as though they felt our government had lost its cutting edge and its handle in the form of the Presidency and needed replacement.

Their disenchantment with a declining status quo had been evident for some time. Not since 1972 have Mississippi farmers had what could be considered a reasonably profitable crop year. Of course government was only partly to blame at first; more so later on. Floods commencing in parts of the state during the '72 harvest were the harbinger of worse things to come. The Mississippi-Yazoo basin flood of 1973 was critical for a lot of lower delta producers - an act that has been repeated to alarming degrees each year since then.

In fact some farmers have felt that government actions through the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers have compounded their problems more than they have alleviated them, and the authority and policies of that government arm inflicted some wounds that have been hard to heal regardless of party politics.

Grain embargoes under both the Republican and Democrats have hurt farmers. And today while their proliferation by bureaucrats unanswerable to the people.

While Carter's background was solidly southern agricultural, his Administration often belied that in the minds of farmers by the hundreds of thousands across the South and nation.

Farmers were well represented among those who helped cast away the old government handle, and they too are on the spot today whipping out their drawknives to fashion a tight fit for the new one before a new farm program is fashioned.

The new handle, their policies would indicate, should be used to provide the political leverage needed to whack off government excesses in bureaucracy and politically inspired giveaway programs for the masses. One shouldn't be surprised if they carved the trademark 'austerity for all' on the new handle as a reminder to keep on swinging even when the chips begin to fly hardest in the direction of the chopper.

American pioneers were skilled at using the axe or adze, a similar instrument, for shaping logs - bevelled or squared - for a tight fit so the construction would withstand all manner of pestilence.

As the new Administration starts trimming the new national budget - even as the bark, knots and softwood begin to fly - it appears that President-elect Reagan will have no small measure of the popular regard of Lincoln, another handyman with an axe, as far as a lot of affected farm people are concerned.

A zebra foal attempts its first steps less than twenty minutes after it is born.

Thrifty farmer never owned mower when good milk cow could do the job

By S. G. Thigpen

I got this unsigned note asking, "When were the good old days you talk so much about and what was so good about them?"

Accompanying this anonymous note was the following in rhyme:

"Give someone else the good old days,

"Give me the modern ways.

"The old folks had no charge accounts,

"The women had it tough,

"And if they wished to dress a bit,

"They had to sew the stuff.

"They had no vacuum cleaners,

"So wives could labor less -

"Their only home appliance

"Was the old washboard, I guess.

"And family life was different, too,

"No radio or teevee,

"For a Sunday out at sea.

"There were no Frigidaires

"To make eating more a pleasure,

"No air-conditioners, no washers,

"No cars the miles to measure.

YOU take the good old days.

"Give me the modern ways."

To answer the question asked in the unsigned note, the good old days were when a man was valued for his skill with a chopping axe, his mastery of a team, his marksmanship, his ability to plow a straight furrow, the number of bushels of corn he could produce per acre, or for the amount of cotton he could pick in a day.

The good old days were when a boy could cut and split the wood for the home without having a pain in his side, when a girl could sweep the floors of the home, and make up the beds without having nervous prostration, when children spoke respectfully of their parents, and when everybody worked including father.

The good old days were when people read the Bible on Sunday instead of the newspapers, when mother read the Bible to all the family gathered around a big open fire instead of a hole in the floor.

The good old days were when a man had to be really sick to stay home from church on Sunday. The good old days were when young men were admired for their ability to debate in the Friday night debating society, and the young ladies for their ability to sing the old time songs.

We hear of how many holes in a round of golf, the kind of bridge game a person plays, or how some young person does the twist, or some other inconsequential thing.

Our values change, our interests change, our ways of living change.

While I greatly appreciate the modern conveniences and would not want to be without them, I believe that we have gone backward rather than forward in many of our ways of thinking and of spending our time.

The good old days were when everybody drank out of the same tin dipper, or gourd, and had never heard of germs, which reminds me of what one boy said:

"We are all more healthy now at our house; we bought one of them there sanitary drinking cups and all of us drinks out of it."

The good old days were when a young feller could kiss a sweet young thing and never worry a bit about catching tuberculosis, or any other germ carrying disease; when a doctor carried his medicine with him in his saddle bags and filled all his prescriptions there - at maybe a cost of 25 to 50 cents, which reminds me of another old time story:

An old man with a big family said, "I have 20 children, have never been 20 miles from home, have never spent more than $20 in any one year in stores, and have not paid out in all my life as much as $20 in doctor's bills."

While this old story may seem a bit far fetched, there were cases back in the old days where it was pretty nearly true.

In the good old days there was no telephone for your wife to use to order things from the stores that she did not need, or to call up and order you to bring this, that and the other home with you, or to hurry you home to get in wood for the cook stove right when you were enjoying yourself.

In the good old days the mother would get up early, cook breakfast for a big family, fix a dinner bucket for six school children and get them off to school on time, milk the cows, clean up the house, and it never crossed her mind that she was over worked.

The good old days were back when people ate pure foods - no additives or preservatives were added to poison food to make it keep.

Practically everybody produced the food they ate right there on the farm. It was fresh and rich in vitamin.

Nothing like so many doctors and hospitals as we have now were needed back then either.

Back in the good old days people were better educated, or trained - whichever term you want to use - from a practical standpoint, than they are, generally speaking, today.

Back then a man did not know as much about social studies - whatever that is, or about orientation - whatever that is, or about theoretical science and psychology as some of us know today, but from a practical standpoint he knew how to make a living.

He knew how to do the things that needed to be done about the place he lived on - he knew how to sharpen his own plows, how to foretell the weather even better than the forecasters of today with all their radar and other high priced equipment.

He knew how to and built his own house, he hunted with great skill. He not only did most of the doctoring for his family but also took care of the livestock on his place.

In book education the young people of today far excel those of 75 years ago, but from the standpoint of practical education - the only real education, in my opinion - it was the other way around.

Boys 60 to 70 years ago learned to work and to do the things around the place where they lived. I remember one case where a man died and left his widow with two boys, about 13 and 15 years old.

Those boys knew how to work, they had been trained as they grew up. They went ahead with that farm and made about as good crop as their father had ever made.

Today, too many boys are untrained, and know how to do almost nothing. They are not disciplined to work. Back in the old days a young man did not hunt a job - he made himself a job.

Every boy I knew where I grew up was trained to work and knew how to farm to get good results. I think that a boy is not treated right who does not learn how to do worthwhile things as he grows up.

He can study all the books in the school but unless he works, all this knowledge is useless. Suppose that a girl studied piano playing out of books - never practiced any at all, just learned out of books - does anyone think that she could ever play the piano?

It is just as important to practice what we learn in other subjects as it is to practice how to play a piano.

The good old days were when boys and girls were more respectful of their parents - back then you never heard of young folks referring to their parents as the "Old Man" or "Old Lady."

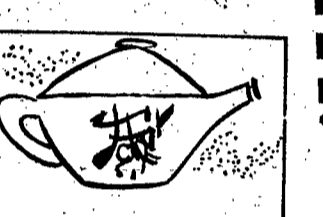

Another thing, grandparents were treated as honored guests in the homes of their children and grandchildren in the good old days.

In the good old days no thrifty farmer would have ever thought of buying a lawn mower and spending time mowing his lawn.

He let a good milk cow do the job. Instead of the lawn being a big expense as it is today, he made money out of it.

The cow kept the lawn in perfect condition, she kept it fertilized and she gave big quantities of good rich milk and butter. People today are not as smart, or maybe not as thrifty as in the old days.

Well, I could keep on indefinitely answering the question asked in the anonymous note, but I do not

I wish to express my deepest gratitude to the people of Mississippi for the overwhelming vote of confidence I received on November 4th. I will return to Washington with renewed purpose and greater determination than ever to serve your interests effectively and make your views matter in Congress.

Election results across the nation happily suggest that the conservative values and attitudes traditionally shared by most Mississippians are now also shared by most Americans. We have every reason to believe that the new Congress will reflect that new consensus and begin to change the direction of our nation accordingly. Time magazine last week called the new mood "a fresh start" for America. And so it is.

I'm proud to be your Congressman, and thank you for honoring me once again with so important a responsibility.

BUFFALO

ENJOY A BIT OF AMERICA'S HERITAGE...
NATIONAL EXCLUSIVELY BRINGS FRESH
BUFFALO TO THE SOUTH.

National brings you buffalo—a part of America's eating heritage, once near extinction, but now yours to enjoy with a promise of a taste treat as great as the big country from which it comes. After grazing on native grasses U.S.D.A. supervised herds are then grain fed to insure a yield of rich, flavor-full meat. When cooked, uncovered at low temperature, the natural juices and characteristic fine textured tenderness of buffalo is preserved for your whole family to enjoy.
